Regular meeting Shetucket lodge, I. O. O. F., tonight. A full attendance desired. Refreshments.—adv.

New corporations formed in this state during the past week numbered ten, with capital stock of $401,500.

The annual appeals for early holiday shopping are being made. There are only twenty-two week days to Christmas.

Beautiful days and moonlight nights have induced all who could to get out of doors, remembering the nearness of cold weather when outings will be less agreeable.

On November 29, 1816, Morrison R. Waite, chief justice of the United States supreme court, was born in Lyme; died in Washington, D. C., March 23, 1888.

Friends and relatives of John R. McNamara assisted at a month's mind requiem high mass for him in St. Patrick's church on Monday at 8 o'clock, Rev. Hugh Treanor officiating.

The current issue of the Journal of Education, Boston, pays tribute to Edgar O. Silver, who died recently at East Orange, N. J., and whose wife was Miss Main of North Stonington.

Arthur W. Bowman, cashier in the treasurer's office of the New Haven railroad, has been appointed assistant treasurer of the company, according to an announcement made by the railroad company.

The tug Tasco reached New London from Florida at midnight Sunday, having made port only at Hoboken to coal, since leaving Jacksonville. Horace H. Allen, who is on the tug, arrived at his home in Norwich Monday evening.

The Connecticut agricultural college at Storrs, is sending out bulletins of the short winter courses so practical and popular in other years: Poultry husbandry, January 4 to February 11; pomology, January 4 to February 11; dairy husbandry, February 14 to March 25.

At the Sanford school for boys, Redding, where Frederick D. Mabrey of Norwich is one of the headmasters, there are thirty pupils this term. Mr. and Mrs. Mabrey, who are pleasantly settled in their new home near the school, have been entertaining for several days Mr. Mabrey's mother, Mrs. Louis Mabrey of Norwich.

At the home of W. S. Fletcher of Norwich on Thanksgiving day was a family gathering, eleven in number, those present were W. G. Browning, wife and daughter, W. L. Fletcher, wife and four children, W. S. Fletcher and daughter, Cora. Although stormy outside there was happiness and good cheer within. Mr. Browning and family have returned to their home at 81 Niagara street, Providence.

Charles D. Noyes Would Accept Appointment on Business Record—Not Seeking It on Political Grounds.

Many of the state papers, including those of Hartford and New Haven, on Monday made reference to the filling of the vacancy on the board of railroad commissioners and named the following candidates:

Andrew J. Shepard of Portland, ex-Governor Charles Gates of Willimantic, County Commissioner Noyes of Norwich, and a strong candidate from the Bulkeley faction, who will be boomed by Railroad Commissioner "Andy" Gates. Besides these there are Albert E. Winchester of South Norwalk, the Hon. Daniel Kennedy of Stamford, Ralph O. Wells of Hartford and J. Henry Roraback of North Canaan.

Regarding this important board, on which eastern Connecticut has had no representation for twenty years, Charles D. Noyes, when seen, stated that he was not a factional candidate and that he was not seeking the position on political grounds. He added that he would accept the appointment should it come his way, but it would be on his standing as a business man. As such he has an enviable record, being prominently identified with important business interests in this end of the state, having been a successful business man and is now an officer-holder in corporations, trustee and director of the Norwich Savings society and director of the First National bank.

FUNERALS.

Charles B. Harvey. The remains of Charles B. Harvey, who died at Salem last Saturday, were taken to Yantic cemetery, Monday morning at eleven o'clock, where services were conducted by Rev. Dr. M. S. Kaufman, pastor of Trinity Methodist Episcopal church. Relatives and friends were in attendance and there was a number of floral forms. In attendance were relatives from Niantic and New York. Funeral Director Gager had charge of the arrangements.

Harlan Kinney. The funeral of Harlan Kinney was held from the home of his sister, Mrs. Jefferson Kinney, in Ashwilt, on Friday morning at 11 o'clock. Rev. O. H. Chamberlain, pastor of the Bethel Methodist church, officiated, and there was a large attendance, several being present from Norwich. Mr. Kinney died the previous Tuesday morning from paralysis and had been helpless for nearly two years. On November 25, 1881, he joined the Shetucket lodge, No. 27, I. O. O. F., of Norwich. Members of the lodge acted as bearers at his funeral and burial was in the Rix town cemetery.

Visiting New London Now. The elixir of life is now having a trial in New London, where it is being sold at reduced prices, as it was here a number of weeks ago. As it was found to be here it is nothing but burnt sugar and water in New London. It has a slightly different name than the one used here, but it is the same material and will accomplish no better results says a New London paper. One woman was made sick by using it.

Naugatuck—It is expected that the addition to the National bank building will be completed in a few days.

CAPT. ARMINGTON RESIGNS. Accepted and Honorable Discharge Granted Danielson Officer—Fort Terry Commander.

The resignation of Captain Frederick O. Armington, Thirtieth company, C. A. C., at Danielson, is accepted and an honorable discharge is granted him in orders issued from the office of the adjutant general.

Captain G. A. Wiczerock is to take charge of the Forty-third company at Fort Terry, and will assume the duties in a few days.

Captain Wiczerock was stationed at Fort Wood, New York, until about one year ago. For the past three months he has been on a leave of absence at Fort Leavenworth, Kan. He has been in the detached service with the Signal corps during the past five years and his taking command of the Forty-third company is the first artillery duty he will have done since that time.

Falls Shooting Club. The first tournament of the Falls Shooting club came to an end Saturday night at their club rooms on Oneo street, returning James Brennan as winner of the mandolin. The contest narrowed down to a close fight between Henry Enslin, Rudolph Nichols and James Brennan, but after some good shooting Brennan beat out his two opponents.

Another contest for the members is to start at once, upon the same conditions as the one just finished. The prize this time is a box of cigars, which will be decided by finals a week before Christmas.

Fined for Selling Liquor. In New London Monday, Mary Quill was fined $50 for selling liquor to members of the state police on the 27th of June. She appealed. Mrs. Quill's bartender, William Isbell, was warned that a long talk with the court of common pleas, and spent several days in jail before his fine was paid.

Governor Names Delegates. Governor Weeks on Monday named nine delegates to the national river and harbors congress at Washington, December 8, 9 and 10, and Frank V. Chappell of New London is named as one of them. The delegates must pay their own way.

The British Welshbach company has begun manufacturing electric lights.

CRIMINAL COMMON PLEAS COURT

William Faatz Found Guilty and Fined $25 and Costs—Appeal Taken Under $250 Bonds—Lobster Case Nolle and One Continued.

The criminal court of common pleas was in session in this city on Monday afternoon in the hearing of the case of the state vs. William K. Faatz, charged with violating the dentistry law on two counts. Victor C. Lavallo of New Bedford and G. A. Griswold of Hartford, registrar of the state dental commission, testified, the latter stating that the accused was not a registered dentist. The case comes from the city court on an appeal, and Prosecuting Attorney Whittlesby was assisted by Attorney A. M. Brown, county health officer. Perkins and Thayer appeared for the accused. After hearing the evidence and arguments the jury returned about 2 o'clock with a verdict of guilty on one count, the second count being nolle.

One talesman was necessary to make up the jury, and John Steiner was secured for that place.

After the jury had been excused for the day a motion for arrest of judgment and one to set aside the verdict were argued by attorneys and denied by Judge Walker, who fined the accused $25 and costs. An appeal will be taken and the bonds were fixed at $250.

The case against Fremont Ashbey of Noank, charged with catching lobsters in New York waters without a Connecticut license was nolle.

The case against a woman named Brown, charged with conducting a house of ill repute, was continued, as a doctor's certificate showed that she is sick in Worcester and unable to be in court. This completed the business of the term, and it was adjourned without date.

The court of common pleas will come in this morning with a jury in attendance for the trial of the case of Duffer vs. the Order of Sons of Herman, a suit over insurance money.

NEW CASES BROUGHT IN SUPERIOR COURT Making Total of 28 Returned to Clerk Parsons Thus Far for the First Tuesday of December.

The following new cases were filed with Clerk Parsons in the superior court on Monday, making 28 in all which have been returned for December:

Andrew B. Davies, trustee of the estate of James D'Atri, in bankruptcy, brings suit against James D'Atri and wife, asking for a decree for a conveyance from Mrs. D'Atri to the plaintiff her right title and interest in premises which were conveyed to her by the defendant through a third party, as it is claimed to defraud his creditors. Damages to the amount of $1,000 are also claimed.

Walton Gates of Los Angeles seeks to recover $1,500 from D. Lynsted Gate of East Lyme, having loaned that sum to the defendant.

Frank W. Coy of Westerly, sues the Mistuxet club of Stonington for possession of the premises, leased by the defendant, the lease expiring June 1, 1907, but they have continued to remain there and have taken out a portion of the heating apparatus and a portion of the partition walls. Beside judgment for possession of the premises, damages of $1,500 are also sought.

Earl B. Scott of Stonington, aged 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Scott, both of whom are deceased, and who has been residing with his step-father, Newman F. Tuckerman, for several years, so much so that he is known as Earl F. Tuckerman, desires his name changed to Earl F. Tuckerman.

Era Raboin sues Gregoire Marc-aurelle for the foreclosure of the mortgage of possession of mortgaged property, the amount being $600.

Asking for the foreclosure to recover on a mortgage of Charles E. Hanson of New London sues the New England Marine Engine company et al. of Groton and asks for the sale of the property.

Margaret Kelley of Norwich brings suit against Grace M. Kelley of Ridgefield, who is mother and guardian of Joseph E. Kelley, aged 3, and grandson of the plaintiff, asking that the court authorize her to care for and support her grandson in her home in Norwich, which she wishes to do, and that she be relieved of the requirement to pay $3 weekly for the support of the grandson, and that it shall order that $3 a week in more than necessary for his weekly support.

June 20, 1909, the court found in the suit of Joseph Kelley vs. Margaret Kelley that Margaret Kelley should contribute $3 a week to the support of her grandson. Margaret Kelley wrote to Grace Kelley in Ridgefield November 20, stating that she could provide for the boy cheaper here than in Ridgefield and asked that he be sent to her.

In this case an appeal has been taken to the supreme court claiming that the superior court erred in ruling and holding that the defendant became bound to the plaintiff in the sum of $2,000 with sufficient surety to abide such judgment.

YOUNG MEN HAVE CASES CONTINUED AGAIN. Go Over Until Saturday—Liquor Case Against Thomas W. Wilson Tried and Decision Reserved.

The resignation of Captain Frederick the continued cases against Lee Hill and Gerald Raboin were called up, they being charged with attempting to lure young girls away from the city, and another continuance was granted until Saturday of this week. In court to see them after the session were the mother and wife of one of the young men and a woman friend of the other. The women had a long talk with the young men and felt the position they were in, but the young men seemed to give it but little thought and found solace in the Marathon they were going at cigarette smoking.

For violation of the liquor law Ruby Blinderman had his case continued until Saturday and furnished the necessary bond.

Charged with selling liquor to a minor, Frederick H. Reclard, of Salem, Thomas W. Wilson pleaded not guilty and the testimony was heard. The young man claimed that he bought liquor there and it was shown by the family Bible that it was used by him for 21 years, but he was until April 28, 1910. Arguments in the case were made by Attorneys Hall and Shields and Judge Brown reserved his decision until Saturday.

EVANGELISTIC SERVICES Started at McKinley Avenue A. M. E. Zion Church Monday evening—Rev. W. Samuel Orner, B. D., the Preacher.

Monday night the McKinley Avenue Methodist church started a special evangelistic meeting, to continue for two weeks. Rev. D. Samuel Orner, B. D., the noted colored evangelist, will conduct the meetings. He is an able preacher and a good singer. He came from Boston, where he has been engaged in the service of the Evangelical Alliance of Boston. The evangelist preached a very able and acceptable sermon last night on the Need of the Baptism of the Holy Spirit. He will preach tonight on Moving the Stone.

A PLACE IN IT FOR BOTH THE GOOD AND THE BAD. Great Institutional Church to Be Erected in Cleveland.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 29.—On the eve of John D. Rockefeller's departure for the east, Rev. W. W. Bustard, pastor of the Euclid Avenue Baptist church, announced that he was the annual holder of the Men's club that he expects a great institutional church to be erected in the near future on the site of the present structure.

"And there will be a place in it for receiving the bad as well as the good," said he.

Both Rev. Charles A. Eaton, former pastor, and Dr. Bustard, present pastor, have urged upon Mr. Rockefeller the need of such an edifice, and it is believed that Dr. Bustard's prediction of a structure of the kind is inspired.

MINISTER CLAIMS THAT HE WAS DECEIVED.

Rev. W. H. McLean Arrested on Serious Charge of Marrying a Couple Without a License.

On Monday morning Chief Murphy arrested Rev. W. H. McLean on the charge of having married Cathano De Pena and Miss Gertrude Gonsalves of Providence on November 23, without a marriage license. The groom is 24, and the bride 13 by her own statement. The couple were held in custody and the case against Rev. McLean was continued at his request until today, under $100 bail, which he secured, before the city court.

He claims that he was deceived in the matter and desires to get testimony and an attorney to assist him.

The couple ran away from Providence last week Tuesday and went to Albany, N. Y. They came here Wednesday and were married and two days later secured a marriage license from the town clerk of Ledyard, where it was represented that the girl was of age. By this license marriage would have to be performed in Ledyard.

The couple will remain in the care of the police until Wednesday, by order of the court. It is possible some charge may be presented against the man, while the girl's parents are anxious for her return home.

JAMES A. ARNOLD. Well Known Book Publisher of Providence Spending Some Time in Norwich.

James A. Arnold of Providence, who is here making a copy of the old town records of vital statistics, is well known on this continent and in Europe. He has numerous invitations to join prominent organizations in England, particularly the Authors' club, and The Biographer has offered him the privilege of a personal write-up.

On Sunday he had a page devoted to eastern Connecticut in the Providence Journal. He has published 19 volumes of ancient records and newspapers and gets a most flattering notice in a review of his work. "If you cannot find it in Arnold's works, it is no use looking further," states one notice. He is a descendant of Benedict Arnold and reveres his ancestor.

For each of his 19 volumes the state of Rhode Island has paid him $2,000.

The Cornwall board of trade has petitioned the Dominion government to grant a franchise to the St. Lawrence Power company for utilizing the channels of the river for a hydro-electric plant. This concern, with an associated American company, has already spent $1,000,000 in purchasing sites.
